

Forbes Names AMN Healthcare to America's Best Employers List

February 16, 2022

DALLAS--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- AMN Healthcare (NYSE: AMN), the leader and innovator in total talent solutions for healthcare organizations across the nation, today announced it was named among America's Best Employers for 2022 by Forbes Magazine.

"We are delighted to be included in this list of prestigious and dynamic companies that have been identified by their own team members as the best employers in the nation," said Susan Salka, President and CEO of AMN Healthcare. "We strive to be an employer of choice and are thrilled by the strong validation by our team members that inclusion on this list implies."

Forbes' list of America's Best Employers for 2022 was derived from a survey of over 60,000 employees working for companies with at least 1,000 people. Conducted anonymously, the survey asked employees if they would recommend their companies to friends and family based on a scale from 0 to ten, with ten indicating they would definitely recommend their employer. The survey also was based on statements and ratings employees provided regarding topics such as salaries, working conditions, opportunities for advancement and the image of their companies.

A key driver of the high ratings AMN Healthcare received from its team members, Salka believes, is the company's longstanding commitment to diversity and inclusion. Sixty-seven percent of AMN Healthcare's team members are women while 36% are people of color. In addition, AMN Healthcare has made a strong commitment to team member support and retention during Covid-19, according to Salka.

"We have transformed our operations in response to the pandemic to meet our team members' needs, stressing worker safety and providing work from home options critical to employee satisfaction," Salka said. "We are proud our team members continue to see AMN as an employer of choice, even during a uniquely challenging time."
